

CALL MRS. HARTJE TO HELP CONVICT NEGRO COACHMAN

Record in Celebrated Divorce Case Presented Against Hooe.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 24.—Only those directly connected with the trial of Clifford Hooe, the former negro coachman of Augustus Hartje, who is charged with perjury in connection with alleged depositions reflecting on Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, were permitted in Criminal Court today when the case was called.

Mrs. Hartje, who will be the star witness in the case, was on hand early, but she was not brought into the courtroom, remaining secluded in the district attorney's office. It is said the Commonwealth expects to prove by her that she was not at home on the dates mentioned by Hooe in his deposition, and, therefore, the story he told in that statement could not be true.

When the trial was resumed Assistant District Attorney John S. Ross, Jr., offered in evidence the entire record in the divorce case of Augustus Hartje against Mary Scott Hartje. This was objected to by Attorney J. Scott Ferguson on behalf of Hooe, who claimed that it was incompetent and irrelevant. Judge Frazer overruled the objection.

While this offer included all the records in the case, the bulky testimony taken in this case was not brought into court, all other papers except the testimony being shown.

One Case He Knew.

(From the Chicago Record-Herald.)

"Have you ever known a man who had a weakness for a woman?"

"Well," replied the rising young statesman, "I might mention my father-in-law. I had the hardest kind of work with him when I went to get his consent."

NEW CRUSADE ON SUNDAY THEATRE

Brooklyn Ministers Ask Court to Revoke Columbia's License as a Test Case.

The fight of the Kings County Sunday Observance League against Sunday night performances in the Brooklyn Theatre was carried to the Supreme Court today, when Justice Keogh was asked to revoke the license of the Columbia Theatre. The petitioner is the Rev. Dr. William Sheafe Chase, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Bedford avenue and Division street.

The management of the Columbia has been putting on Sunday night vaudeville concerts. The ministers of Brooklyn, who have organized to stop Sunday performances, picked out this theatre for a test case. Arguments on the application to revoke the license will be heard by Justice Keogh next Tuesday.

At a meeting yesterday in the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. rooms a plan was mapped out for a campaign to close every theatre in New York giving Sunday night performances. Mayor McGraw will be appealed to at first. If he does not close the houses Gov. Hughes will be asked to take action. The courts in Manhattan, however, have repeatedly held that the so-called Sunday night "sacred concert" is within the limit of the law, when scenery is not changed and the drop curtain remains up during the entire performance.

MAHER WINS STAKE RACE.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—At Newmarket today the Cambridge Stakes for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile and a furlong, were won by Polymelus, ridden by "Dapper" Maher, who had the hardest kind of work with him when I went to get his consent.

WED WIDOW WHO HAD $2,000 IN THE BANK

Wegner, Who Is Sued for Divorce, Tells Court He Made a Mistake.

The request of Mrs. Martha Wegner, of No. 20 Clinton street, Brooklyn, for a divorce today caused her husband, Charles F. Wegner, to file in the Supreme Court an affidavit, in which he says:

"My wife died last January and left me three daughters. This woman, who was then passing as a widow named Cole, read of my wife's death in the newspapers and wrote a letter to me in which she said that she and I were lovers twenty years ago, and asked me to call her 'I did,' and she told me how much she loved me and how good she would be to my children, and that she had $2,000 in the bank, so I married her."

"I took her to Europe and she couldn't do anything but tell me how good her husband was and what a fine gentleman Charles Diller of Manhattan is. That's all I heard all over Europe."

"When I came back I commenced to investigate, and one night, when I was supposed to be asleep in bed, she comes home with this fellow Diller and they had a grand time in the parlor."

"After that I followed her several times. She said she had to go out making dresses for rich people at night. Well, I found her with Diller more than once and from appearances they had had enough to drink. So I thought she was setting a bad example to my daughters and I left her and took my children."

Further on in his affidavit Wegner states that he believed his wife was alive, that he married her and that she had a husband and a son named Charles. Wegner is a dressmaker in the Clinton street house and is said to have an exclusive clientele. She said in her affidavit that when Wegner left her he brutally beat her and that since then he has not given her a cent.

Justice Keogh ordered Wegner to pay his wife $100 counsel fee and $12 a week alimony until the case is tried, in three weeks.

ELLISON OFFERS A JOB TO DELANY

Would Make Him a Commissioner of Condemnation Along Water Route.

The first plum to be given out by Corporation Counsel Ellison will go to his predecessor, John J. Delany. He offers to the retiring Corporation Counsel an appointment as commissioner in the condemnation of the most important section of the one hundred mile route of the new aqueduct to connect the city with the Catskill water supply. The commission, which will be something handsome, is left to the courts.

Mr. Ellison has secured the services of Henry T. Dyckman, of White Plains, to represent the city, and he will be petitions at once for the condemnation of the entire route of the aqueduct from the Croton supply northward, to near Cold Springs, where the great siphon will be built under the Hudson.

"Mr. Dyckman has had large experience in such matters," said Mr. Ellison today, "and I was anxious to secure his services. He will represent this city as special counsel for the whole proceedings."

"I have divided the work into two sections, and the two Commissioners will be appointed as soon as the necessary notices can be given. I have the privilege of naming one Commissioner on each Commission, and have named Mr. Delany, primarily because he is one of the best men whom I could get if I can get him, and because I think it a right thing to do."

"I have not consulted Mayor McClellan," he said, in answer to a question, "but shall do so as to the appointment of the Commissioner which we can name on the other Commission."
